

Mackenzie Construction Ltd operates in a diverse range of markets and locations and recognises the importance of environmental management to all our futures and the opportunities that exist to improve the business and become more competitive. This policy has the full support of the Directors and Senior Managers, who are required to ensure adherence to its requirements, as follows:

- The undertaking of all activities in accordance with applicable environmental laws and regulations in the locality of company operations. They will comply with relevant codes of practice and will endeavour to exceed regulatory requirements wherever feasible.
- Ensuring commitment to the continual improvement of their environmental performance and will manage activities with the aim of reducing negative environmental impact to a practicable minimum and prevention of pollution.
- In order to provide assurance and control of environmental performance, Mackenzie Construction implement a Mackenzie Management System compliant with the requirements of ISO 14001:2015.

Continual improvement will be achieved by setting clear Annual Objectives and Targets and regularly monitoring progress against them through reporting, review and audit activities.

The Companies policies, operating procedures and instructions will be regularly reviewed and revised as appropriate in accordance with knowledge and changing circumstances.

It is the responsibility of every Mackenzie Construction Manager to implement environmental policies and management systems appropriate to the nature, scale and environmental impacts of their activities, products or services. Each Manager shall report on environmental performance and progress against corporate objectives and targets on a regular basis.

By reason of the spread and operational diversity of Mackenzie Construction activities, the applications of this policy will be achieved through the management structure of the Company as a prime part of management's responsibility. Management will be assisted in this task by competent advisors.
